Week by Week Highlight Reel

Week 1 - Guess your score night

Dan Koens started our year off with a bang! His 14 on the very first hole of the year (#10) would hold up to be the highest of the year. There is just no quit in division 2. We call it an 'X' in division 1, by the way, Dan. But Dan did go on to win 4 points on the night!

Only one player broke 40 for the day. Congrats to Don O'Connell who managed a 39. Not sure why everyone else had trouble scoring?

Week 2 - Least Putts

Brad Osborn ran away with the competition, draining 6 1-putts, and adding a zero-putt to give him

10 putts for the night. He also shot a 36, which would hold up to be his low round of the year.

It was also Justin Hatcher's first night as a ReTees, and he shot a nice 1-under 34.

Week 3 - Par 3's only

Scott Robins was 1-under on par 3's and took the competition. His 36 was also low for the night.

The secretary also screwed up and awarded Mark Bitetto 1st place in division 2, who was even par on par 3's. Jason Ambrosio and Bob Eaker were both 1-under on par 3's, and finished

1-2. I fixed it at the end of the season, just a bit surprised nobody caught that error at some point.

Week 4 - Closest-to in 2

Greg Musser won the div 2 competition with a birdie on #5. Hard to beat a closest-to of 0. Mark Bitetto shot a nice 39 to move into div 1, and Mark Novak shot a nice 37 for a net 28. Those were the low rounds of the year for those two.

Week 5

The treasurer got to pick the competition this night. The game was TRASH, and Art Joseph and Mark Wehrmeister won their divisions. I'll have to look again to remember what that game was all about.

Dale Richardson dominated the night. His even par 35 was at least 4 strokes better than the rest!

Week 6

Jeff Walker had his first of two 36's for the year. Art Joseph also got a 36 in the same group. Both their best scores of the year. Art went on to get 4 37's later in the season. Rod Russell's low for the year, a 34!

Week 7

Hole in one for Charles Massey on #8. I had to modify the slope and rating for the course for this one week only.

Gruel gets a nice 31, which turned out to be the low ReTee round for the year, but that was overshadowed by the Massey ace, and the bit of controversy surrounding a shortened hole. Charles shot a nice 35, the par was 34 this day. Later when accepting the hole-in-one pot, Mr. Massey graciously bought every current ReTee back into the pot, and donated the rest to the bar tabs and charity!

Week 8

Toughest scorecard of the season to read, thanks to Steve Spangler. Please use numbers next time. 8) Art Joseph had an eagle on #10, just one of four eagles on the year for the ReTees.

Week 12

Rod Russell shot a 35, and so did two others in the group: Brian Gruel, and Justin Hatcher. Had to be the prettiest

Scorecard turned in. Mark Mielke's 38 made it a 4-some that was a total of +3. Rod finished the year with 9 consecutive Rounds in the 30's.

Week 13

Some pretty decent scores with the optional number of club night. The 3 winners in div 1 all used 4 clubs: Dale Richardson with a 34,

Jim Hipp with a 37, and Don O'Connell with a nice round 40. Oddly enough, the three winners in div 2 all used 5 clubs:

Randy Hazelton with a 45, Brad Burnham at 41, and Daniel Koens with a 50.

Week 14

Bob Tomsett 33, was 4 under after 6 holes! Mike Yamada broke 40, with a nice 39.

Week 15

12 scores in the 30's. Leading the pack at a 1-under 34 was Steve Spangler. Others at the top: An even-par 35 for Dale Richardson, and a trio at 36: Chris Hill, Scott Robins, and Jeff Walker. And leading in Div 2 was Jack Erban at 40, and Rick Yaeger with a 41.

Week 16

Mark Wehrmeister shot a 38, for a net 26!

Week 17

Gym Hipp's nice 35! Started with 3 birdies in a row on the front 9. Quite impressive, and tough to do.

Week 18

College night was changed to low net, since so many players didn't put a school down on the card. No big deal, and nobody got better than 30 net! That was Kurt Ruckwardt, who was secretly warming up for next week.

Week 19

Bobby V, a nice 43 for a 25 net. And Kurt Ruckwardt aces #16 to collect the hole-in-one pot!

Week 20

Paul Fry's low round of the year, a nice 39. Dan Koens 46 was a 28 net!
